 Hospitals
 Law Enforcement Organizations and Officials (LEO)
 Emergency Service Providers
 County Children and Youth Advisory Committees
 Private Children and Youth Agencies
 County Commissioners
 Pennsylvania Children and Youth Administrators Association
 Other Interested Parties

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this bulletin is to outline the requirements of Act 201 of 2002, the Newborn Protection Act, which amended Title 23, Pa.C.S., Chapter 63 (relating to the Child Protective Services Law) (CPSL), thereby creating Chapter 65. This bulletin also includes changes to The Newborn Protection Act, which was amended by Act 91 of 2014 and Act 68 of 2017. This bulletin rescinds and replaces OCYF Bulletin #3490-11-01 which was issued in July 2011.

BACKGROUND:

On December 9, 2002, Governor Mark S. Schweiker signed Senate Bill 654, Printer's Number 2386 into law as Act 201 of 2002 known as the Newborn Protection Act. The Newborn Protection Act allows a parent of a newborn, a child less than 28 days of age, to leave the child in the care of a hospital. The Newborn Protection Act was amended on July 2, 2014 when Governor Tom Corbett signed Act 91 of 2014, which amended Title 18 (Crimes and Offenses) and Title 23 (Domestic Relations) to permit a police officer at a police station to accept newborns from parents. On December 22, 2017, Governor Tom Wolf signed Act 68 of 2017

providing for emergency services providers to accept newborns, as well as an optional provision for Safe Haven locations to provide an incubator for the acceptance of a newborn. The Newborn Protection Act allows the relinquishment by a parent without criminal liability providing the following criteria are met:

- The parent expresses orally or through conduct that they intend for the hospital, police officer at a police station or an emergency services provider to accept the newborn; and
- The newborn is not a victim of child abuse or criminal conduct.

The Safe Haven Program of Pennsylvania (Safe Haven) was created in 2003 in response to the Newborn Protection Act.

Newborns who are relinquished under Safe Haven are placed into foster care through the county children and youth agency (CCYA) with a pre-adoptive family. Adoption serves the best interest of these children as the parents have indicated through their actions that they wish to relinquish care and responsibility for these children.

A copy of the Newborn Protection Act was sent to CCYAs in 2003 when the law was initially enacted. The department also issued a letter explaining the requirements to hospitals, CCYA and law enforcement officials at that time. Numerous fact sheets and public awareness materials were also distributed at that time.

In March 2004, the department instituted a toll-free Safe Haven Helpline, 1-866-921-SAFE (7233), to provide information about Safe Haven. The helpline can be accessed 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Women in crisis and individuals seeking information may speak with a person regarding the program and find out the location of the nearest hospital police station or emergency services provider station. Callers are also provided with the phone number to the Healthy Baby Helpline, 1-800-986-BABY (2229), to receive information about free or low cost health care services.

In November 2006, the Department launched a Safe Haven website, www.secretsafe.org, which is tailored to anyone seeking information about the Safe Haven program. Parents, agencies, hospitals, police, etc. can visit the website to download forms and educational materials related to the program.

Hospitals, CCYAs, law enforcement officials, emergency services providers and other associated agencies are encouraged to provide a link to www.secretsafe.org on their websites.

DEFINITIONS:

Child abuse – The term “child abuse” shall mean intentionally, knowingly or recklessly doing any of the following:

- (1) Causing bodily injury to a child through any recent act or failure to act.
- (2) Fabricating, feigning or intentionally exaggerating or inducing a medical symptom or disease which results in a potentially harmful medical evaluation or treatment to the child through any recent act.

- (3) Causing or substantially contributing to serious mental injury to a child through any act or failure to act or a series of such acts or failures to act.
- (4) Causing sexual abuse or exploitation of a child through any act or failure to act.
- (5) Creating a reasonable likelihood of bodily injury to a child through any recent act or failure to act.
- (6) Creating a likelihood of sexual abuse or exploitation of a child through any recent act or failure to act.
- (7) Causing serious physical neglect of a child.
- (8) Engaging in any of the following recent acts:
 - (i) Kicking, biting, throwing, burning, stabbing or cutting a child in a manner that endangers the child.
 - (ii) Unreasonably restraining or confining a child, based on consideration of the method, location or the duration of the restraint or confinement.
 - (iii) Forcefully shaking a child under one year of age.
 - (iv) Forcefully slapping or otherwise striking a child under one year of age.
 - (v) Interfering with the breathing of a child.
 - (vi) Causing a child to be present at a location while a violation of 18 Pa.C.S. § 7508.2 (relating to operation of methamphetamine laboratory) is occurring, provided that the violation is being investigated by law enforcement.
 - (vii) Leaving a child unsupervised with an individual, other than the child's parent, who the actor knows or reasonably should have known:
 - (A) Is required to register as a Tier II or Tier III sexual offender under 42 Pa.C.S. Ch. 97 Subch. H (relating to registration of sexual offenders), where the victim of the sexual offense was under 18 years of age when the crime was committed.
 - (B) Has been determined to be a sexually violent predator under 42 Pa.C.S. § 9799.24 (relating to assessments) or any of its predecessors.
 - (C) Has been determined to be a sexually violent delinquent child as defined in 42 Pa.C.S. § 9799.12 (relating to definitions).
- (9) Causing the death of the child through any act or failure to act.
- (10) Engaging a child in a severe form of trafficking in persons or sex trafficking, as those terms are defined under section 103 of the Trafficking Victims Protection Act of 2000 (114 Stat. 1466, 22 U.S.C. § 7102).

County Children and Youth Agency (CCYA) – The county children and youth social services agency established pursuant to section 405 of the act of June 24, 1937 (P.L. 2017, No. 396), known as the County Institution District Law, or its successor, and supervised by the Department of Human Services under Article IX of the act of June 13, 1967 (P.L. 31, No. 21), known as the Public Welfare Code.

Department – The Department of Human Services of the Commonwealth (formerly Department of Public Welfare).

Emergency Services Provider – An emergency medical responder, emergency medical technician, advanced emergency medical technician or a paramedic as defined in 35 Pa.C.S. § 8103.

Health care provider – A person who is licensed or certified by the laws of this Commonwealth to administer health care in the ordinary course of business or practice of a profession. For purposes of accepting a newborn as provided in § 6504 (a)(1) (relating to accepting newborns) and for immunity provided pursuant to §6507 (relating to immunity granted to health care providers and hospitals), both sections found in the Newborn Protection Act, the term includes administrative, managerial and security personnel and any other person employed by a hospital.

Hospital – An institution having an organized medical staff which is primarily engaged in providing to inpatients, by or under the supervision of physicians, diagnostic and therapeutic services or rehabilitation services for the care or rehabilitation of people who are injured, disabled, pregnant, diseased, sick or mentally ill. The term includes facilities for the diagnosis and treatment of disorders within the scope of specific medical specialties, but not facilities caring exclusively for people with mental illness or those facilities primarily engaged in providing rehabilitation services or long-term care.

Incubator – An apparatus used to maintain environmental conditions suitable for a newborn baby regulated by the Pennsylvania Department of Health.

Law Enforcement Officials – any person who is by law given the power to enforce the law when acting within the scope of that person's employment.

Newborn – A child less than 28 days of age as reasonably determined by a physician.

Police department – A public agency of a political subdivision having general police powers and charged with making arrests in connection with the enforcement of criminal or traffic laws.

Police officer – A full-time or part-time employee assigned to criminal or traffic law enforcement duties of a police department of a county, city, borough, town or township. The term also includes a member of the State Police Force.

Police station – The station or headquarters of a police department or a Pennsylvania State Police station or headquarters.

Safe Haven locations – The physical site where a parent can relinquish a newborn less than 28 days of age. The Newborn Protection Act only permits relinquishments at Safe Haven locations where personnel are on site or an incubator is installed.

DISCUSSION:

The following summarizes the responsibilities of hospitals, police officers, emergency services providers, CCYAs and the department. Relinquishment of a newborn at a hospital, to a police officer at a police station or to emergency services providers on the grounds of an entity employing the emergency services providers or otherwise providing access to the emergency services provider requires a coordinated effort at the local level as there are multiple community partners involved. Coordination among the hospital, CCYA, law enforcement officials, emergency services providers and the department is required.

Hospital Responsibilities (See Attachment A – Safe Haven Fact Sheet for Hospitals):

1. The hospital must adopt a written policy in accordance with the provisions of the Newborn Protection Act. Hospital protocol should take the information below into consideration as well as the procedures outlined in the sample protocol (See Attachment B – Sample Hospital Protocol for Safe Haven).
2. The hospital must ensure staff is familiar with the requirements of the Newborn Protection Act and distribute related materials provided by the Department.
3. There should be signs posted within the hospital indicating that the individual relinquishing the newborn should wait until the newborn is received by staff. If the individual relinquishing the newborn is unwilling or unable to wait, they should be directed, by the signs, where to place the newborn and how to alert staff to the newborn.
4. When a newborn is brought to the hospital, a physician, the director or a person specifically designated by the director of a hospital, is required to take a newborn into protective custody as provided in § 6315 (a)(3) (relating to taking child into protective custody) of the CPSL. The hospital is also required to take protective custody of a newborn if the child is born in the hospital and the parent expresses orally or through conduct that they intend for the hospital to accept the newborn. All identifying information of the birth parent obtained by the hospital should be given to the local county agency. As long as the child is less than 28 days old, as reasonably determined by a physician, and not a victim of child abuse or another crime, the protections under the Newborn Protection Act apply.
5. The hospital is required to perform a medical evaluation of the newborn and any act necessary to care for and to protect the physical health and safety of the child as stated in § 6504 (a)(2) (relating to accepting newborns) of the Newborn Protection Act. Resuscitation as required will be initiated.
6. When a newborn is received by a hospital, the hospital is required to notify the local county agency and, unless the newborn was brought to the hospital by the police, the appropriate law enforcement agency immediately by telephone.
7. Within 48 hours of providing an oral report to the local CCYA and law enforcement agency, the hospital must file a written report, the Relinquished Newborn Report Form for Hospitals (See Attachment C). One copy of the form must be submitted to:
 - a. CCYA who receives custody of the newborn;
 - b. Local municipal police department or the Pennsylvania State Police where no municipal police jurisdiction exists; and
 - c. Pennsylvania Department of Human Services, Office of Children, Youth and Families at PW-RASafeHaven@pa.gov.
8. Hospitals should give the parent the opportunity to provide birth family information, according to § 6504 (b) (relating to accepting newborns) of the Newborn Protection

Act. Family medical and social history information can help to identify future medical risks to the child. Pennsylvania established the Pennsylvania Adoption Information Registry (PAIR) as a means for parents who gave birth in Pennsylvania and placed their child for adoption to voluntarily file family medical and social history information. PAIR only shares medical and social history information upon the adopted child's request. Birth parents may submit this information by completing the Pennsylvania Adoption Information Registry Birth Parent/Birth Parent Survivor Authorization to Release/Not Release Information and Registration Form (See Attachment D). Parents have the option to take the form home and mail it in at any time. This form may also be found online at www.adoptpakids.org.

9. Birth certificate information should be filed according to the Department of Health's foundling guidance. Visit www.health.pa.gov or contact the Division of Vital Records for more information at (717) 772-3480.

Police Responsibilities (See Attachment E – Safe Haven Fact Sheet for Police Officers and Police Stations):

1. Police stations should consider developing a written policy in accordance with the provisions of the Newborn Protection Act.
2. Police stations must ensure officers are familiar with the requirements of the Newborn Protection Act and distribute related materials provided by the department to their staff.
3. If the parent leaves the newborn with a police officer at a police station, the police officer must take the newborn into protective custody under §6315 (a) (5)(relating to taking a newborn into protective custody) of the CPSL and ensure the newborn is transported to a hospital and placed into the care of a health care provider under § 6504 (relating to health care providers accepting newborns) of the Newborn Protection Act. When a newborn is received by a police officer at a police station, the police officer is required to immediately notify the local CCYA by telephone. If a parent who leaves an infant with a police officer provides any medical history or other information about the newborn, the police officer will accept the information and share it with the hospital and local county agency. The police officer must ensure that the child is transported to a hospital. The hospital is then required to perform a medical evaluation of the newborn and any act necessary to care for and protect the physical health and safety of the child as stated in § 6504 (a)(2) (relating to accepting newborns) of the Newborn Protection Act.
4. Law Enforcement Officials (LEO) are required to assist the CCYAs in assuring the newborn is not a victim of child abuse or other criminal conduct by utilizing resources associated with the National Crime Information Center (NCIC). Whether or not the newborn is left at a hospital or with a police officer at a police station, LEO should assist the local CCYA in making diligent efforts to notify the newborn's parents, guardian, custodian or other family member regarding the child's whereabouts.

5. Police officers should give the parent the opportunity to provide birth family information, according to § 6504.1(b) (relating to accepting newborns) of the Newborn Protection Act. Family medical and social history information can help to identify future medical risks to the child. Pennsylvania established the Pennsylvania Adoption Information Registry (PAIR) as a means for parents who gave birth in Pennsylvania and placed their child for adoption to voluntarily file family medical and social history information. PAIR only shares medical and social history information upon the adopted child's request. Birth parents may submit this information by completing the Pennsylvania Adoption Information Registry Birth Parent/Birth Parent Survivor Authorization to Release/Not Release Information and Registration Form (See Attachment D). Parents have the option to take the form home and mail it in at any time. This form may also be found online at www.adoptpakids.org.

Emergency Services Providers Responsibilities (See Attachment F – Safe Haven Fact Sheet for Emergency Services Providers):

1. Emergency services providers should consider developing a written policy in accordance with the requirements of the Newborn Protection Act.
2. Emergency services providers must ensure responders, technicians, paramedics and staff are familiar with the requirements of the Newborn Protection Act and distribute related materials provided by the department to their staff.
3. If a parent leaves the newborn with an emergency services provider, the provider must take the newborn into protective custody as specified under § 6315(a)(6) (relating to taking child into protective custody) of the CPSL and ensure the newborn is transported to a hospital and placed into the care of a health care provider as specified under § 6504 (relating to health care providers accepting newborns) of the Newborn Protection Act. When a newborn is received by an emergency services provider, the provider is required to immediately notify the local CCYA by telephone. If a parent who leaves a newborn with an emergency services provider provides any medical history or identifying information about the newborn, the emergency services provider will accept the information and share it with the hospital and local CCYA. The emergency services provider must ensure that the child is transported to a hospital. The hospital is then required to perform a medical evaluation of the newborn and any act necessary to care for and protect the physical health and safety of the child as stated in § 6504 (a)(2) (relating to accepting newborns) of the Newborn Protection Act.
4. Emergency services providers shall ensure their grounds clearly indicate, for a minimum of 18 months beginning April 21, 2018, that the location accepts newborns under this law.
5. Emergency services providers should give the parent the opportunity to provide birth family information, according to § 6504.1(b) (relating to accepting newborns) of the Newborn Protection Act. Family medical and social history information can help to identify future medical risks to the child. Pennsylvania established the Pennsylvania Adoption Information Registry (PAIR) as a means for parents who gave birth in Pennsylvania and placed their child for adoption to voluntarily file family medical and social history information. PAIR only shares medical and social history information upon the adopted child's request. Birth parents may submit this information by completing the Pennsylvania Adoption Information Registry Birth Parent/Birth Parent Survivor Authorization to Release/Not Release Information and Registration Form (See Attachment D). Parents have the option to take the form home and mail it in at any time. This form may also be found online at www.adoptpakids.org.

Provision of Optional Installation of Incubators

A hospital, police station or other entity employing or otherwise providing access to an emergency services provider is not required, but have the option, to provide an incubator for the care of a newborn accepted under this law. Facilities opting to install an incubator must meet the regulations and standards of the Pennsylvania Department of Health including design, function, sanitation and manufacturing standards. In addition, incubators must:

- Allow an infant to be placed anonymously by the parent.
- Have a locking mechanism that prevents third parties from access.
- Provide a controlled environment to protect the care of the infant.
- Automatically notify the personnel of the hospital, police station or emergency services provider within 30 seconds of an infant being placed by the parent.
- Trigger a 911 call if the infant is not received by personnel within a reasonable amount of time.

Facilities who install an incubator must create and install signage nearby to instruct parents on how to use it.

Immunity and Penalties

No hospital nor health care provider at a hospital, police department, police officer, administrative or managerial personnel of a police department, emergency services provider or entity that employs or otherwise provides access to an emergency services provider shall be subject to civil liability or criminal penalty solely by reason of complying with § 6507 (relating to immunity granted to health care providers and hospitals) of the Newborn Protection Act, except for failure to report acceptance in accordance with § 6506 (relating to failure to report acceptance of newborns) of the Newborn Protection Act. Consequences of failing to report acceptance include a summary offense for the first intentional or knowingly failure to report and a misdemeanor of the third degree for the second or subsequent failure to report.

County Children and Youth Agency Responsibilities (See Attachment G – Safe Haven Fact Sheet for County Children and Youth Agency):

1. After a hospital, police officer or emergency services provider takes protective custody of a newborn pursuant to the Newborn Protection Act and has contacted the local CCYA, the local CCYA is required to file a petition to assume custody of the newborn and place the newborn with a pre-adoptive family.

2. A written report, Relinquished Newborn Report Form for Hospitals (See Attachment C) must be submitted within 48 hours by the hospital taking protective custody of the newborn to the local CCYA. Inform the hospital that a copy of this form may also be submitted to the department electronically at RA-PWSafeHaven@pa.gov.
3. Within 72 hours of assuming custody of the newborn, the county agency must submit a written report, the Relinquished Newborn Report Form for the County Children and Youth Agency (See Attachment H) to the Department electronically at RA-PWSafeHaven@pa.gov. The county agency must also submit an updated form anytime new information becomes available.
4. Consistent with Title 42, CFR, Subpart C, § 435.210 (a)(4) (relating to individuals included in optional groups) and the Office of Income Maintenance, Supplemental Handbook, Foster Care and Adoption Assistance, § 850.21, Automatic Enrollment, the newborn is immediately eligible for Medicaid when taken into protective custody (See Attachment I).
5. The CCYA shall follow the same procedures for any abandoned child the agency takes custody of such as filing for the birth certificate and the social security number.
6. While the intent of the Newborn Protection Act is to offer a safe and anonymous alternative to birth parents to keep newborns safe as opposed to abandoning them, if any identifying information of the birth parent is obtained, the county agency should follow protocol in terms of diligent search and termination of parental rights. CCYAs do not need to wait six months to file for termination of parental rights for an abandoned child based on aggravated circumstances as outlined in the Juvenile Act (Title 42, Pa.C.S. Chapter 63), § 6302 (1)(i), (relating to aggravated circumstances), which allows for a termination of parental rights to be filed if, the child is in the custody of a county agency and either: the identity or whereabouts of the parents is unknown and cannot be ascertained and the parent does not claim the child within three months of the date the child was taken into custody. Grounds for filing a petition are also outlined in the Adoption Act (Title 23, Pa.C.S. Chapter 25), § 2511 (a)(4), (relating to grounds for involuntary termination), which allows for termination of parental rights to be filed if, the child is in the custody of an agency, having been found under such circumstances that the identity or whereabouts of the parent is unknown and cannot be ascertained by diligent search and the parent does not claim the child within three months after the child is found.

In addition to what the county agency would normally do when notified by a hospital, police officer or emergency services provider that a child has been taken into protective custody, the Newborn Protection Act also requires the CCYA to do the following:

- Make diligent efforts within 24 hours to identify the newborn's parent, guardian, custodian or other family members and their whereabouts;
- Request LEO to utilize resources associated with the NCIC to determine if the child has been a victim of a crime;

- Assume responsibility for making decisions regarding the newborn's medical care, unless otherwise provided by court order (Title 23 Pa.C.S § 6316) (relating to admission to private and public hospitals) of the CPSL;
- Provide outreach and counseling services to prevent newborn abandonment; and
- Continue the prevention of newborn abandonment publicity and education program.

Department of Human Services Responsibilities:

1. The department is responsible to order immediate admittance, treatment and care if a hospital fails to admit and properly care for a child. This shall be enforceable by civil action. A child who is denied admittance, treatment and care, may also seek independent civil action for damages through an attorney. The department expects coordination among all partners on the local level and if there are issues identified, the department has the authority and responsibility to intervene.
2. The department is responsible for continued prevention of newborn abandonment through publicity and education programs. Resources for use by hospitals, health care providers, police and emergency services providers are provided by the department and can be found online at www.secretsafe.org.
3. The department must also report annually on the number and disposition of newborns accepted under the Newborn Protection Act in the Annual Child Abuse Report.

Fact Sheet for Hospitals

Overview:

The Newborn Protection Act, also known as “Safe Haven” in Pennsylvania, was signed into law on December 9, 2002 and amended on July 2, 2014 and December 22, 2017. The Newborn Protection Act provides that a parent of a newborn may leave a child in the care of a hospital, a police officer at a police station or with an emergency services provider without being held criminally liable, providing that the following criteria are met:

- The parent expresses orally or through conduct that they intend for the hospital or a police officer at a police station to accept the child.
- The newborn is not a victim of child abuse or criminal conduct.

Definitions:

Newborn – A child less than 28 days of age as reasonably determined by a physician.

Hospital – An institution having an organized medical staff which is primarily engaged in providing to inpatients, by or under the supervision of physicians, diagnostic and therapeutic services or rehabilitation services for the care or rehabilitation of people who are injured, disabled, pregnant, diseased, sick or mentally ill. The term includes facilities for the diagnosis and treatment of disorders within the scope of specific medical specialties, but not facilities caring exclusively for people with mental illness or those facilities primarily engaged in providing rehabilitation services or long-term care.

What Safe Haven Means For Your Hospital:

- Adopt a written policy and adhere to reporting requirements in accordance with the provisions of the Newborn Protection Act.
- Ensure that staff are familiar with the requirements of the Newborn Protection Act and distribute related materials. Resources may be found on Pennsylvania’s Safe Haven website, www.secretssafe.org.

Immunity and Penalties:

- No hospital nor health care provider at a hospital shall be subject to civil liability or criminal penalty solely by reason of complying with the Newborn Protection Act, except for failure to report acceptance.
- Failure to report acceptance includes:
 - o Summary offense for first intentional or knowingly failure to report.
 - o Misdemeanor of the third degree for second or subsequent failure to report.

Sample Hospital Protocol

Purpose: To define the process and procedure for the reception of newborns (less than 28 days old) in accordance with the Newborn Protection Act that was signed into law on December 9, 2002 and amended on July 2, 2014 and December 22, 2017. The purpose of this Act is to protect newborns who might otherwise be abandoned or harmed by permitting a parent to leave a newborn at a hospital, with a police officer at a police station or with an emergency services provider without fear of criminal prosecution when the child has not been a victim of suspected child abuse or other crime.

Instructions:

1. Take the Newborn

- When a parent expresses orally or through conduct that they intend for the hospital to accept the newborn and the newborn is not a victim of child abuse or criminal conduct, then this is a Safe Haven baby and the parent cannot be charged with a crime.

2. Offer Support

- Hospital staff may ask "Do you need any care for yourself?" If the mother requires medical attention, she should be registered as "Jane Doe."
- Hospital staff may share, "We will take good care of this baby", if they feel the need to say something.
- Provide aftercare resources when available.

3. Document Medical Information

- Collect any medical history or identifying information the parent chooses to disclose. A parent may, but is not required to, provide information.
- Your hospital may provide a Pennsylvania Adoption Information Registry Birth Parent/Birth Parent Survivor Authorization to Release/Not Release Information and Registration Form. Give the parent the option to fill out the questionnaire at the hospital or take the form home and return it via mail.
- Staff may ask "Is there any family medical history we need to know?" or "Were there any problems you observed during birth?"

4. Ensure the Newborn's Safety

- Resuscitation should be initiated (as required). Notify the in-house attending pediatrician on-call. The pediatrician will consult via telephone or present to the Emergency Department to assess the infant and assume care.
- Hospital staff should take the baby to the treatment area of the Emergency Department. If the staff receiving the newborn is a non-licensed employee, approach the first registered nurse or physician encountered and transfer the baby to that person.

- Relay any medical information obtained about the newborn to the registered nurse or physician.

5. Complete All Required Forms

- An Emergency Department chart should be generated for each newborn.
- The newborn is immediately eligible for Medicaid. The local Children & Youth agency should be able to provide the newborn's Medicaid ID number.
- When filing Birth Certificate documentation, refer to the "Foundling/Safe Haven" section in the Department of Health's Birth Certification Registration Manual.

6. Notify Community Partners

- The designated hospital staff (e.g., Emergency Department Charge Nurse, Social Worker, Doctor) must immediately telephone the county children and youth agency and the local police (unless the newborn was brought to the hospital by the police).
- Within 48 hours of providing an oral report, the Emergency Department Charge Nurse (or other designated staff), must file a written report, the Relinquished Newborn Report Form for Hospitals. One copy of the form must be submitted to:
 - Local county children and youth agency who receives custody of the newborn.
 - Local municipal police department or the Pennsylvania State Police where no municipal police jurisdiction exists.
 - Pennsylvania Department of Human Services, Office of Children, Youth and Families at PW-RASafeHaven@pa.gov.

Fact Sheet for Police Officers and Police Stations

Overview:

The Newborn Protection Act, also known as “Safe Haven” in Pennsylvania, was signed into law on December 9, 2002 and amended on July 2, 2014 and December 22, 2017. The Newborn Protection Act provides that a parent of a newborn may leave a child in the care of a hospital, a police officer at a police station or with an emergency services provider without being held criminally liable, providing that the following criteria are met:

- The parent expresses orally or through conduct that they intend for the hospital or a police officer at a police station to accept the child.
- The newborn is not a victim of child abuse or criminal conduct.

Definitions:

Newborn – A child less than 28 days of age as reasonably determined by a physician.

Police Officer – A full-time or part-time employee assigned to criminal or traffic law enforcement duties of a police department of a county, city, borough, town or township. The term also includes a member of the State Police Force.

A Police Station – The station or headquarters of a police department or a Pennsylvania State Police station or headquarters.

What Safe Haven Means For Your Police Station and Officers:

- Adopt a written policy in accordance with the provisions of the Newborn Protection Act.
- Ensure staff are familiar with the Act and distribute related materials. Resources may be found on Pennsylvania’s Safe Haven website, www.secretsafe.org.

Immunity and Penalties:

- No police department, police officer, administrative or managerial personnel of a police department shall be subject to civil liability or criminal penalty solely by reason of complying with the Newborn Protection Act, except for failure to report acceptance.
- Failure to report acceptance includes:
 - o Summary offense for first intentional or knowingly failure to report.
 - o Misdemeanor of the third degree for second or subsequent failure to report.

When a Newborn is given to a police officer in a Police Station:

1. Take the Newborn

- A police officer must accept the infant. If the newborn is not a victim of child abuse or criminal conduct, then this is a Safe Haven baby and the parent cannot be charged with a crime.

2. Document Identifying Information

- The police officer should try to obtain as much identifying information on the adult leaving the infant as possible; however, the person relinquishing the infant has no legal obligation to provide any identifying information.

3. Ensure the Newborn's Safety

- The police officer who accepts the infant must take protective custody of the infant and ensure that the infant is transported to the hospital and placed into the care of a health care provider.

Fact Sheet for Emergency Services Providers

Overview:

The Newborn Protection Act, also known as “Safe Haven” in Pennsylvania, was signed into law on December 9, 2002 and amended on July 2, 2014 and December 22, 2017. The Newborn Protection Act provides that a parent of a newborn may leave a child in the care of a hospital, a police officer at a police station or with an emergency services provider without being held criminally liable, providing that the following criteria are met:

- The parent expresses orally or through conduct that they intend for the hospital, a police officer at a police station or emergency services provider to accept the child.
- The newborn is not a victim of child abuse or criminal conduct.

Definitions:

Newborn – A child less than 28 days of age as reasonably determined by a physician.

Emergency Services Provider – An emergency medical responder, emergency medical technician, advanced emergency medical technician or a paramedic as defined in 35 Pa.C.S. § 8103.

What Safe Haven Means For Emergency Services Providers:

- Adopt a written policy in accordance with the provisions of the Newborn Protection Act.
- Ensure staff are familiar with the Act and distribute related materials. Resources may be found on Pennsylvania’s Safe Haven website, www.secretssafe.org.

Immunity and Penalties:

- No emergency services provider on the grounds of an entity employing the emergency services provider or otherwise providing access to the emergency services provider pursuant to 23 Pa.C.S. Ch. 65 shall be subject to civil liability or criminal penalty solely by reason of complying with the Newborn Protection Act, except for failure to report acceptance.
- Failure to report acceptance includes:
 - o Summary offense for first intentional or knowingly failure to report.
 - o Misdemeanor of the third degree for second or subsequent failure to report.

When a Newborn is Given to an Emergency Services Provider:

1. Take the Newborn

- An emergency services provider must accept the infant. If the newborn is not a victim of child abuse or criminal conduct, then this is a Safe Haven baby and the parent cannot be charged with a crime.

2. Document Identifying Information

- The emergency services provider should try to obtain as much identifying information on the adult leaving the infant as possible; however, the person relinquishing the infant has no legal obligation to provide any identifying information.

3. Ensure the Newborn's Safety

- The emergency services provider who accepts the infant must take protective custody of the infant and ensure that the infant is transported to the hospital and placed into the care of a health care provider.

Fact Sheet for County Children and Youth Agencies

Overview:

The Newborn Protection Act, also known as “Safe Haven” in Pennsylvania, was signed into law on December 9, 2002 and amended on July 2, 2014 and December 22, 2018. The Newborn Protection Act provides that a parent of a newborn may leave a child in the care of a hospital, a police officer at a police station or with an emergency services provider without being held criminally liable, providing that the following criteria are met:

- The parent expresses orally or through conduct that they intend for the hospital or a police officer at a police station to accept the child.
- The newborn is not a victim of child abuse or criminal conduct.

Definitions:

County Children and Youth Agency (CCYA) – The county children and youth social services agency established pursuant to Section 405 of the Act of June 24, 1937 (P.L. 2017, No. 396), known as the County Institution District Law, or its successor, and supervised by the Department of Human Services under Article IX of the act of June 13, 1967 (P.L. 31, No. 21), known as the Public Welfare Code.

Newborn – A child less than 28 days of age as reasonably determined by a physician.

What Safe Haven Means For Your Agency:

When a provider at a hospital takes protective custody of a newborn pursuant to the Newborn Protection Act, the provider is required to contact the local children and youth agency and law enforcement officials. In addition to what your agency would normally do when notified by a hospital that a child has been taken into protective custody, the Newborn Protection Act requires your agency to do the following:

- Make diligent efforts within 24 hours to identify parents, guardian, custodian or other family member whereabouts.
- Request law enforcement officials utilize resources associated with the National Crime Information Center (NCIC).
- Assume responsibility for making decisions regarding the newborn’s medical care.
- Provide outreach and counseling services to prevent newborn abandonment.
- Continue prevention of newborn abandonment publicity and education programs.
- Submit a written report, the Relinquished Newborn Report Form for the County Children and Youth Agency, within 72 hours of assuming custody of the newborn, to the Department of Human Services, Office of Children, Youth and Families at RA-PWSafeHaven@pa.gov.

- Submit an updated Relinquished Newborn Report Form anytime new information becomes available.

Medicaid Process

Consistent with the Office of Income Maintenance, Supplemental Handbook, Foster Care and Adoption Assistance, §850.21, Automatic Enrollment, Safe Haven newborns are immediately eligible for Medicaid when taken into protective custody.

Instructions:

The county children and youth agency (CCYA) is required to follow this process when registering a Safe Haven newborn for Medicaid with their local County Assistance Office (CAO).

1. When a CCYA is notified that a Safe Haven newborn was received by a hospital, police station or emergency services provider, they must provide identifying information to the CAO within 24 hours and submit a CY-60 form (see next page) within 48 hours. If notification occurs on a weekend or holiday, the CCYA will provide the following information to the CAO on the next work day:

- Name: The newborn's last name will be "Safehaven." The newborn's first name will be the first nine letters of the county name, followed by sequential lettering starting with "a." For example, Philadelphia's first newborn would be named (last name first), "Safehaven, Philadelpa." The second newborn in Philadelphia would be named "Safehaven, Philadelpb." When the alphabet has exhausted, begin with double lettering. For example: "aa", "ab", "ac."
- Birth Date: If unknown, the newborn's birth date will be reasonably determined by the physician. If the physician is unable to make a reasonable determination, the date the newborn is relinquished at the hospital will be used for the birth date.
- Other Required Information:
 - Sex: Identify whether the child is male or female.
 - Citizen: "Yes" unless there is verifiable information to the contrary.
 - Race: Best reasonable determination.
 - Ethnicity: Best reasonable determination.

2. Provide the hospital billing department with the child's name and birth date immediately.

3. Provide the Medicaid number to the hospital billing department when it is known.
